With the Class of 1924

Where, O where are the grave old seniors?
Lost in the wide, wide world!

Into the heart of every old girl as she returns to Winthrop steals a thought of regret and a feeling of loneliness as she notices those "grave old seniors" who only three short months ago went out from their alma mater to join that group of college graduates who had already taken their places in the "wide, wide world."

Knowing the interest of all of the faculty and old girls in the members of the class of '24, and their being the editors of The Johnsonian sent out a questionnaire several weeks ago to ascertain information as to when and where they would teach. The responses to this questionnaire were very generous, and The Johnsonian is accordingly able to give the following personal items about our friends of '24:

Miss Jessie Matthews, president of the class of '24, will teach in the Winston-Salem schools. She was in Rock Hill a few days ago en route to Winston-Salem. She was joined by Miss Margaret Workman, who will also teach in the Winston-Salem schools. Miss Matthews, for the present, is at the Zimendorf hotel.

For the 30th Time,

we are happy with the privilege of welcoming the Winthrop faculty and students to our city—at the beginning of another new year's study and development.

We have seen the time when there was only an arrival of some 300 students.

Today we welcome nearly 2,000 young ladies from every town and hamlet of the Palmetto State who have been attracted to Winthrop as a result of honest efficiency of its president and faculty during the long years of its past history. We welcome you one and all—we are glad you are here in our midst again. We are proud of Winthrop and what she produces and sends forth to all the world and our sincere desire is that you all may find the coming nine months' residence in our city as students and teachers both profitable and pleasant.

Respectfully,

Faculty Frolics

"All work and no play makes uninteresting teacher," says our Faculty, and so we find them during the warm months of vacation scattered east, west, north, and south—strolling beaches, climbing mountains, touring Europe, some resting—others studying.

Dean Kinard spent his vacation in Rock Hill, denying girls admission to Winthrop college on account of lack of space.

Professor and Mrs. J. Thompson Brown spent the vacation in Charlottesville, Virginia, having the trip by auto.

Dr. Pugh and family motored to Kingstree and other points in the southern part of the state. Dr. James E. Wainwright and family visited in Bedford City, Virginia. Dr. Wainwright also attended the Furman University of Politics.

Dr. P. H. Edwards and family motored to Darlington for a visit with relatives. Dr. Edwards later spent several days in Washington, D. C., on business.

Dr. Isabelle Perry attended the Medical Association, took post graduate work in pediatrics in Chicago, climbed with the Alpine Club of Canada in the Mt. Robson district and visited her family in North Carolina during the vacation.

Professor Wm. G. Durgin spent the vacation getting acquainted with his new son, Wm. Garner, the second, who came Aug. 3.

Dr. G. C. Mance and family motored to northern New York City, spending several days in New York City.

Miss Serena Bailey spent a few days at her home in Palatka, Fla. before Summer School; afterwards she visited friends in Asheville, N. C., and Louisville, Kentucky.

Miss Lucetta Bissel spent most of her vacation at her home in Minneapolis. About the first of August she went to Ironwood, Michigan, near Lake Superior, for a couple of weeks.

Miss Rebecca Bush spent part of her vacation with relatives in Inman, S. C., and the remainder with friends in Brevard, N. C.

Professor W. D. Magginn, Mrs. Magginn, and daughter, Mary Amelia, left Rock Hill after the summer school for an extended auto trip to northern Indiana. Relatives were visiting in West Virginia and Indiana. Camping and driving furnished the major activities of a most pleasant vacation.

Mrs. Bartlett spent the summer at her home in Connecticut, having as her guest Burgh Johnson.

Dr. Donnie Martin enjoyed her vacation at her home in Eldorado Springs, Missouri, and Dr. Elizabeth Johnson at her home in Manassas, Virginia.

Miss Stollings and Miss Keller visited Hendersonville, N. C., and took motor trips into the surrounding country.

Miss Dacus visited friends in Greenville, Columbia, and Williamsburg.

After Summer School, Miss Nancy G. Campbell visited her home in Delaware, Ohio, for a short time. She also studied for choral work at Winona Lake, Ind., under John Finley Williamson of Chicago, and finished her summer with visits on Lakes Erie and Cayuga.

Miss Mary Auld visited in Charleston, West Virginia, her home, and in Virginia Beach and Asheville.

Miss Foote had a very interesting month at the Home Economics National Convention in Buffalo, N. Y. Later she visited in Maine.

After summer school Miss Leila Russell went to her home in Anderson and afterwards to the mountains of Western North Carolina.

Mrs. Cavitt visited her daughter in Kerrville, Texas, on the beautiful Guadalupe River, north of San Antonio.

Mrs. Gibson spent the summer at her home in Staunton, Va.

Miss Greene visited Columbia and the Carolina Country club, Rockingham, N. C., returning to her home in Gastonia.

Miss Georgia Witherspoon first went to her home in York, later leaving for a trip through Niagara Falls, Toronto, Canada, returning through Washington.

Mrs. Simms visited friends in N. C. and travelled through S. C. and Georgia, returning from many Winthrop daughters.

Mrs. E. J. Watson visited relatives and friends in Augusta, Ga., also at Louisville, Kentucky.

Mrs. McBride spent the summer at her home in Staunton, Va. Miss Margaret Kelly studied at the University of California.

Misses Ann Stevens and Miss Arterburg toured Jersey Coast, Adirondacks and Green Mountains in the latter's car, stopping in New York City for several weeks.

Miss Isabel Godwin rested at her home in Richmond in preparation for a gay house party and a late season at the beach.

Miss Berling went to her home in Lewiston, Me.

Miss Emma Jensen toured Norway and Iceland, spent five days in the fjords of Norway, visited relatives near Christiania, Norway, her family home, and returned to America on the U. S. S. Franconia.

Miss Bourne went to her home in Bradford, Mass., and also visited in Maine.

Miss Orrie Fell studied psychology at Teachers' College and Columbia University.

Miss Barker spent the summer at her home in Massachusetts.

Miss Spratt spent a quiet summer in Columbia, S. C.

Miss Owens enjoyed the summer at her home in Lake Geneva, Wisconsin.

Miss Malchus spent the summer at her home in France.

Miss Rollings stayed at her home in Kershaw.

Miss Talbot left Winthrop in Columbia, S. C., returning for the commencement of their Alma Mater, Simmons College. She spent the rest of the summer in New Hampshire and Maine.

Miss Charlotte deVot returned to Boston with her sister, after their delightful recital at Winthrop Summer school. She also visited South Sandwich, Cape Cod.

Mrs. Mary Phelps Walker visited relatives in the mountains of Virginia.

Miss Minnie Parker and Miss Aimee Parker spent the summer in Hendersonville with friends.

Mrs. Carroll spent the summer at Caesar's Head, with relatives.

Mrs. Jennings visited throughout the state, spending the majority of her time at Folly Beach, a few miles from Charleston.

Mrs. Tutwiler stopped in Atlanta, Ga., with relatives, on her way to Asheville, where she spent the remainder of the summer.

Miss Erskine visited in Spartanburg and Greenville.

Miss Williams visited Atlanta and Swainsboro, Ga.

Miss Mary Lee Robertson spent the summer in Hendersonville with her sister from Lake Forest, Mich., touring the surrounding country.

Miss Mary Lee Robertson and Miss Margaret White had an unusually eventful and delightful summer abroad. They visited points of interest in nine European countries, including a climb across an Alpine glacier, and a bicycle trip in Scotland.

Winthrop Girls Marry.

Miss Leitha Mae Herring, a Winthrop graduate, of Marion, was married there last Wednesday afternoon to W. W. Selig, of Marion.

Miss Elizabeth Page, a Winthrop graduate, of Sellers, was married there last Wednesday afternoon to Roy W. Morrison, of Linden, N. C.

Ethel: Did you learn to swim?

Nabel: Twelve times.

MR. DREHER IS NEW WINTHROP BURSAR

Succeeds Dr. G. T. Pugh, Who Resigned to Accept Post on Faculty.

Mr. E. S. Dreher is the new bursar of the college, chosen to that position by the board of trustees, on President Johnson's recommendation. Mr. Dreher succeeds Dr. G. T. Pugh, who resigned to accept a post in the faculty. He comes to his new position splendidly equipped for its demands, having for the past three years served as business manager of the North Carolina College for Women at Greensboro, North Carolina.

Prior to his connection with the N. C. C. W. Mr. Dreher served in several educational posts of importance. He began his teaching experience in 1888-89 in the rural schools of South Carolina, as principal of the Mount Tabor High School. He then assumed a teaching position in the Columbia City Schools, then under the superintendency of Dr. D. B. Johnson. Upon Dr. Johnson's resignation of the superintendency of the Columbia City Schools, Mr. Dreher was elected to succeed him, which position he filled for 23 years. In 1912 he was admitted to the United States army as educational advisor, and was at Treves, Germany, with the army of occupation, with all the courtesies of officers of the regular army. He served in this capacity until demobilization took place, when he became principal of the Shanghai-American School for American Children in Shanghai, China. His next work was with our sister institution of North Carolina, from which post he was called to accept the bursarship of Winthrop. His coming to Winthrop, however, is almost in the nature of a homecoming, in view of his 29 years of service to the Columbia Schools, and of his association there with President Johnson during the days of the infancy of the college he is now called to serve.

Mr. Dreher is a graduate of Fiske College, of Virginia, with the B. S. degree in 1886 and an A. M. degree in 1893.

Miss Henry a Visitor.

An interesting visitor in the city for a few days is Miss Elsa Henry, former teacher of voice at Winthrop College, whose friends are delighted to welcome her for a visit. She was a guest of Mrs. John A. Black, and spent Tuesday and Wednesday with friends at Winthrop. She will go from here to Birmingham, Ala., where she has a position to teach.

DR. GRIFFITH T. PUGH SUCCEEDS MR. COKER

Genial and Popular Bursar Becomes New Head of Department of Mathematics.

The announcement of the resignation of Prof. E. C. Coker from the headship of the department of mathematics, which post he had held for a number of years, occasioned genuine regret among his friends among faculty, students and townspeople, but there was some mitigation when his successor was announced as Dr. Griffith T. Pugh, for several years the efficient bursar of the college. Professor Coker goes to a professorship in the University of South Carolina, while Dr. Pugh comes to his new position splendidly equipped by his past training and experience. He held at one time a teaching fellowship in Vanderbilt University, from which institution he received his A. M. and Ph.D. degrees. He was for 15 years professor of mathematics in Columbia College, Columbia, S. C., and for four years president of that institution. He was called to Winthrop from Columbia three years ago, and has since been bursar of the college. His preference for active educational work induced him to apply for the position made vacant by the resignation of Professor Coker, and his selection to that position means the acquisition of a highly trained mathematician to the faculty.

After receiving notice of his appointment, Dr. Pugh went, during the summer, to Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, to acquaint himself with newer methods and developments in his field—and the students in Mathematics have found him during the week already "on the job" at his new post.
